FATAL SCARE TO HIM

Convict James Ray Dies From a Fractured Skull.

VICTIM OF AN ALLEGED JOKE

Knowing Him to be Afraid of Machinory Heary Heinlein Starts St. the Helt Missing May.

Jacuson, Migh., May 8. James Ray a alored convict from Detroit, serving s the engine-room Friday, from which he died yesterday. Nobody at the prison considered hay's burts serious until Saturday night. The facts seem to be that Ray and another convict named Heinlein were employed in a minor capacity about the engine house. Ray was more or less afraid of the machinery when running, and Heinlein knowing this, started the engine just to scare Ray. Heinlein put on much more steam than he intended, and Ray lean-ing over the belt at the time was jerked cward by the belt to the stone and was injured about the head. Dr. Kimball says there was no doubt some injury to the brain, but he is more less puzzled by the sudden death of Ray. The engine is the one which drives the dynamo and its rate of speed was unknown to the man Heinlein. Warden Chamberlain notified Coroner Green, and the testimony was heard in part yesterday afternoon and an adjournment taken until today. The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that Kay came to his death through the criminal negligence of Frank Wilson and Henry Heinlein, two convicts em-ployed with Ray in the engine rooms. Ray was 50 years old and came here one year ago on conviction of striking a man with a coupling pin-

SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR. The State Educational World's Fair

Exhibit Gets $2,000. LANSING, Mich., May 8. - In the house

tonight the bill authorizing justices of the peace to send drunkards to gold cure institutes was given a second reading and referred to the judiciary committee. The bill has passed the senate. Among the bills passed were the following Incorporating the village of Hoyne Falls, Charlevoix county; authorizing all institutions for the treatment of disease to incorporate; authorizing lattes aid societies auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans to incorporate. The bill ex-tending aid to the Michigan Agricul-tural society was laid upon the table and the state prison investigating committee was given until tomorrow after-noon to report. The chairman promised to be ready to report at that time.
Owing to the absence of Mr. Moll, the author of the Black river declining bill passed by the house, a resolution asking for its recall from the senate was withdrawn until tomorrow. Among the bills signed by the governor today was the bill appropriating $2,000 for the state educational exhibit at the world's fair. The senate, immediately after convening, went into committee of the whole, so remaining until adjournment.

The temped Ours For Idicay.

The cure of an idiot by means of the surgeon's latife is the unique task now being attempted at the Hahnemann hospital, and it bids fair, to prove entirely successful. The second and final operation was performed yesterday afternoon. It is one of the rurest and most delicate operations in medical actence.

The patient is a little 4-year-old boy named Freddis. When brought to the hospital, his case seemed one of hopeless idiocy. He was utterly incupable of speech as well. The usual openings in the skull allowing the brain to attain its normal development were in his case absent. The sole hope was to perform the operation of cranictomy—that is, to create these openings artificially.

Two linear satures had to be cut in the skull, one on each side of the head. The first was successfully made some time ago, and even that half operation produced immediate and noticeable results. The near little lad became able produced immediate and noticeable re-sults. The poor little lad became able to articulate a few words and gave wonderful promise of a return of the brain to its normal functions, in case the second suture could be as successfully performed. This operation was necessarily delayed owing to the shock to the patient. The second suture was cut, however, yesterday, and the triumph of the entire surgical feat seems assured.— Philadelphia Record.

Engined Catching Up.

Apropos of the election of seven lady fellows of the Royal Geographical society it may be of interest to state that during the 62 years of the society's life about twice that number of medals have been awarded to distinguished geographers. Of this number only two have fallen to the share of womankind. No lady traveler, not even Constance Gor-don-Cumming, Isabella Bird or Ida Pfeiffer, has even been deemed worthy to rank in a list of medalists of whom more than one-fourth have been of foreign nationality—European or Asiatic.
This is one of the things they do better in France. Mme. Disulatoy, for instance, on returning with her husband from their romantic excavations in Persis, on the site of the ancient Shushan, was not only suitably welcomed by the Paris Geographical society, but also re-ceived from the state the distinction of the Legion of Honor.—London Letter.

It must be trying to a great personage to have his claims to distinction all unknown, but however trying the situa-tion, he had best be cautious about at-tempting to set it right. A Scottish gentleman learned this by experience.

How a Saake Swallows a Freg.

The method of swallowing is a very simple one, aithough if the frog be large more than half as hour may be consumed in the process. The two bones of the lower jaw are separate and capable of independent movement; so the reptile loosens its hold upon one side of its jaw, and pushing that side forward as far as possible it drives the teeth in again and then draws the jaw back to its original

The result is that the prey is drawn down by the movement. The process is then repeated by the other half of the jaw, thus inevitably forcing the victim inward. The snake's skin stretches enormously, and the jaw is of course dislo cated, but the extensible ligaments hold the bones together.—A. G. Mayer in Popular Science Monthly.
